ISEP STUDY ABROAD

VOLUNTEER ABROAD

Extend your studies beyond the classroom and into local communities for valuable hands-on experience. With ISEP you can volunteer in many ways while studying abroad: enroll in a meaningful service-learning course, volunteer on projects with nonprofits, teach at local schools, or take advantage of other opportunities at your host institution. Our expert advising team can help you identify programs with volunteer opportunities that suit your interests.

ISEP STUDY ABROAD

ISEP GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT PROGRAM IN GHANA

For a unique Study & Volunteer program, look no further than ISEP's flagship Global Engagement Program at the University of Ghana. Immerse yourself in the country's rich culture and engage with local communities.

The University of Ghana is located in Accra, Ghana's capital and the fastest growing city in Africa. UG has a wide variety of course options, but students studying resource development, agriculture, social sciences, or public health will gain an especially valuable perspective that will set them apart from their peers.

Enjoy not only the beautiful campus and vibrant city, but also the sublime natural landscapes of Ghana including golden beaches and towering waterfalls.

ALUMNI SUCCESS

"During my interview process, I really talked a lot about my service learning experience... When Google actually discussed with me my offer, they said it was one of the things they absolutely loved hearing about. That's what makes you stand out as a candidate."

- Simone Douglas, ISEP Global Engagement Program and N.C. A&T Alumna

This program offers benefits above and beyond a typical study abroad program including:

- Diverse ISEP-facilitated community service opportunities

- Independent studies, research projects, or an internship
- An on-site resident director & airport pickup
- Facilitated excursions
- Twi language course
