ISEP STUDY ABROAD

STUDY ON ISEP EXCHANGE

Nursing, Health Sciences and Pre-Health Professions

Study in Botswana | University of Botswana | Chance of Placement: Limited

This program is great for students interested in Nursing Science, Pharmacy and Public Health. Examples of coursework on this program include, "Human Physiology," "Biology of Disease," and "Epidemiology." There are also volunteer opportunities available in the area of healthcare (such as HIV/AIDS support). (Also available on ISEP Direct.)

Study in England | University of Plymouth | Chance of Placement: Most Competitive

The University of Plymouth is located on the coast, near the many small fishing villages of Cornwall. It is a three-hour rail trip from London and also offers a ferry link to mainland Europe. Take classes on this program such as, "Infection, Immunity and Disease," "Genetic Continuity and Diversity," and "Human Metabolism."

Study in Finland | University of Eastern Finland | Chance of Placement: Good

The University of Eastern Finland specializes in teaching and research in healthcare. The campus is located in the city of Kuopio, a place of great natural beauty surrounded by scenic Lake Kallaves. Take classes towards your degree such as, "Introduction to Finnish Health and Social Services System," "Cancer biology," and "Molecular immunology."

Study in Mexico - Health Sciences | UPAEP University | Chance of Placement: Fair

Puebla is the fourth largest city in Mexico and is considered the city of the student. This program offers a unique look inside Mexican healthcare and hospitals. Students will attend lectures regarding the health systems in Mexico and will rotate in at least one hospital or clinic every week. An intermediate knowledge of Spanish is a requirement of this program.

Study in Estonia | University of Tartu | Chance of Placement: Good

The northernmost of the Baltic States, Estonia has historically served as a crossroads between east and west. Highly ranked for Clinical Medicine, Chemistry, Genetics, Biology, Biochemistry, and Psychology, Tartu is the perfect European setting for students interested in careers in health and biology. (Also available on ISEP Direct.)

Study in Southern Spain | Universidad de Murcia | Chance of Placement: Fair

On this program, students can take classes in Spanish in the following areas: Speech-Language Pathology, Communication Sciences & Disorders, Dietetics, Nutrition Sciences and Pharmacy. A two-week pre-semester Spanish language course is required for non-native speakers. (Also available on ISEP Direct.)

Study in South Korea | Korea University | Chance of Placement: Limited

Located in South Korea's capital of Seoul, Korea University's 128-acre campus provides students with an opportunity to meet others from across the globe. Take courses in health science including, "Environmental Immunology," "Environmental Biochemistry," and "Public Health" on this program.

Study in France | Université d`Angers | Chance of Placement: Good

Located in the famous Loire Valley, Angers is situated among an abundance of vineyards and famous French chateaus. "Epidemiology," "Biological & Chemical Risks," and "Health Organization & Policies, Management & Communication" are just a few examples of classes you can take on this program. Students can also enroll in French as a second language classes.

Study in Sweden | Linnaeus University | Chance of Placement: Good

Linnaeus University is the second largest university in southern Sweden. While taking a break from exploring the campus, nursing and health science students can take classes such as, "Global Health from an Intercultural Perspective," "Marine Ecology" and "Sociological Perspectives on Health and Illness."

Additional ISEP Exchange sites available. Please see isepstudyabroad.org to explore all your options!

ISEP STUDY ABROAD

STUDY ON ISEP DIRECT

Nursing, Health Sciences and Pre-Health Professions

ISEP Direct Programs offer guaranteed placement at an affordable price in popular cities and destinations for all students who meet the minimum eligibility requirements. Learn more at isepstudyabroad.org.

Study in London | London Metropolitan University

On this program, take courses such as, "Public Health Nutrition," "Nutritional Epidemiology and Public Health," and "Health Psychology" and spend your free time exploring London, where tradition, innovation, and diversity meet.

Study in Costa Rica - Spanish for the Health Professions

International Center for Development Studies *Spring Semester Only

This program offers students preparing for the health professions an opportunity to learn Spanish and complete hospital rotations or community service in the engaging Costa Rican capital of San Jose.

Study & Volunteer in Ghana | University of Ghana

Delicious street food, great beaches, and memorable historic sites await you in Accra, Ghana. ISEP's Resident Director can arrange volunteer projects, including in area hospitals. Class examples include, "Cell Biology," "Mechanism of Disease," & "Human Anatomy."

Study in Kuala Lumpur | Universiti Putra Malaysia

Malaysia is a country of contrasts and surprises, a bubbly blend of people and ideologies. Take classes in Community Health Services, Dietetics, Medicine, Nursing Science, Nutrition Sciences, Occupational Therapy, Public Health, and more on this program.

Study in Sydney | University of Technology Sydney

This program is situated in the vibrant and culturally diverse city of Sydney and the campus is located across the street from Central Station, Sydney's major train and bus station. Take Athletic Training, Health and Wellness, and Nursing Science classes on this program.

Summer Programs

Summer in Costa Rica - Hospital Shadowing & Medical Spanish

International Center for Development Studies

On this program, spend 4 weeks in Costa Rica and earn 6 U.S. credits studying Healthcare in Latin America and Spanish for the Health Professions. Participation in clinical rotations at a hospital are included.

Summer in Rome - Public Health | Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore

Youthful, fashionable, and energetic, Milan is Northern Italy's cultural hub and the second largest city in Italy. Study coursework in public health and epidemiology from the Italian perspective, a universal coverage, nationalized system.

Additional ISEP Direct options are available in:

The U.K., Australia, the UAE, Malta, Mexico, Botswana, Greece, South Korea, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Argentina, Spain, Estonia and Fiji.

CREATE AN ACCOUNT & START YOUR APPLICATION:

www.isepstudyabroad.org/apply