

STUDY ABROAD

INTERN IN THE U.S.

The U.S. offers endless opportunities to prepare for a career, get experience in your field, and gain global experience. From multicultural cities to incredible national parks, life in the U.S. offers something for everyone—and with many of the world's top companies and global organizations, it is an ideal place to build your resume. ISEP partners with The Intern Group and Global Experiences to offer internships in three unmatched locations in the U.S.: New York City, Los Angeles, and Washington, D.C. All three programs include intensive career preparation.

CONNECT WITH ISEP

NEW YORK CITY, NY Global Experiences

Recommended fields of study: Fashion, photography, video production, business, marketing, tourism and event management, environmental policy, NGO, government, social services

NYC offers it all—art, fashion, food, architecture, music, sports, festivals, and quick travel connections for weekend exploration. Great public transportation makes it easy to explore new neighborhoods or check out world-class sites, from the Empire State Building to the Statue of Liberty. Each intern lives in a shared room within a student residence in Manhattan, located on the Upper East or Upper West side of Central Park, within a short walk of public transportation, shops, restaurants, and nightlife.

Programs from 8 to 14 weeks. Start dates in February, June, and September. Cost based on length of program.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA The Intern Group

Recommended fields of study: Internet technology, computer science, NGOs, business, public relations, marketing, entrepreneurship, engineering

As an intern in California, you'll meet people from every corner of the globe and from every industry. Check out the Hollywood Walk of Fame, head to the beach, or browse the latest styles in boutique shops. Each intern has a private bedroom in a shared furnished apartment, where they live alongside other interns or young professionals. In California, the typical commute to an internship is between 30-60 minutes.

Programs from 8 to 24 weeks. Start dates throughout the year. Cost based on length of program.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Global Experiences

Recommended fields of study: Accounting, business, marketing, communications, event management, public relations, public policy, government, NGO, social services

Whether you are fascinated by politics, history, or want to experience an ever-changing city with new opportunities around every corner, D.C., offers it all. A truly global city, it's possible to try food from around the world and explore free world-class museums. Interns live in single room furnished housing at The George Washington University, just a few blocks from the White House and the U.S. Department of State. Quick and accessible public transportation makes for easy commuting and exploring.
